Terms to Know

• Virtual Machine (VM) / Image: A virtual machine (image) is a virtual representation of an operating system used for the competition. During rounds of competition, teams are given several images of various operating systems. For example, they may receive a Windows 10 image and an Ubuntu 20 image in the first round of competition.

• Host Machine: The physical computer that the teams are working on during the competition.

• Unique Identifier (UID): A twelve-character string of letters and/or numbers that uniquely identifies an individual CyberPatriot team. Teams must input their UID into competition images in order to be properly scored.

• Checksum: A small string of numbers and letters derived from digital data for the purpose of detecting errors that may have been incurred during the download process. Checksums that do not match indicate an error in the downloaded file.

• Whitelist: A list of trusted entities that can include e-mail addresses, domain names, or IP addresses that have been granted access to a network or system by an IT administrator.

CHECKSUM

• After downloading image file, use WinMD5 to verify checksum
  – Open WinMD5
  – Drag and drop downloaded image zip file into WinMD5 window (or click ‘Browse’ to select the file)

Checksums match: You’re all set! Images can be unzipped/extracted.

COMPETITION RULES

• Teams may use notes and training resources during rounds.
  – All resources must be publicly accessible to all teams. You CANNOT use resources that require a paid subscription
• If an image experiences issues mid-round, you may extract a new copy and start over
  – Note: In that case, the team’s score will revert to zero (0) for that image
CyberPatriot sponsor Cisco generously donates the Cisco NetAcad Challenge to the CyberPatriot competition. Teams have access to two parts of Cisco NetAcad:

- The Content Course – used to train teams on what they need to know for the competition
- The Competition Course – used by teams to compete in the Cisco NetAcad Challenge during competition rounds
CyberPatriot enrolls coaches and mentors under the email address they are registered with in the CyberPatriot system.
- Coaches then create their own content course leveraging the “Create Course” button.
Coaches must create an email address and NetAcad account just for the competition

- Team number should be included in the email address for easy identification of teams and score attribution
- Content course accounts (coaches or competitors) CANNOT be used for the competition
- Each team must have a unique account
- In previous years, CyberPatriot created these accounts but due to new verification requirements, we cannot create them in the future
- DEADLINE: October 12
CYBERPATRIOT RULES BOOK

• Rules Book is available on CyberPatriot website under ‘Competition’ tab
